

Royal Holloway, University of London

Enterprise Centre

Artist's Impression of Building Entrance

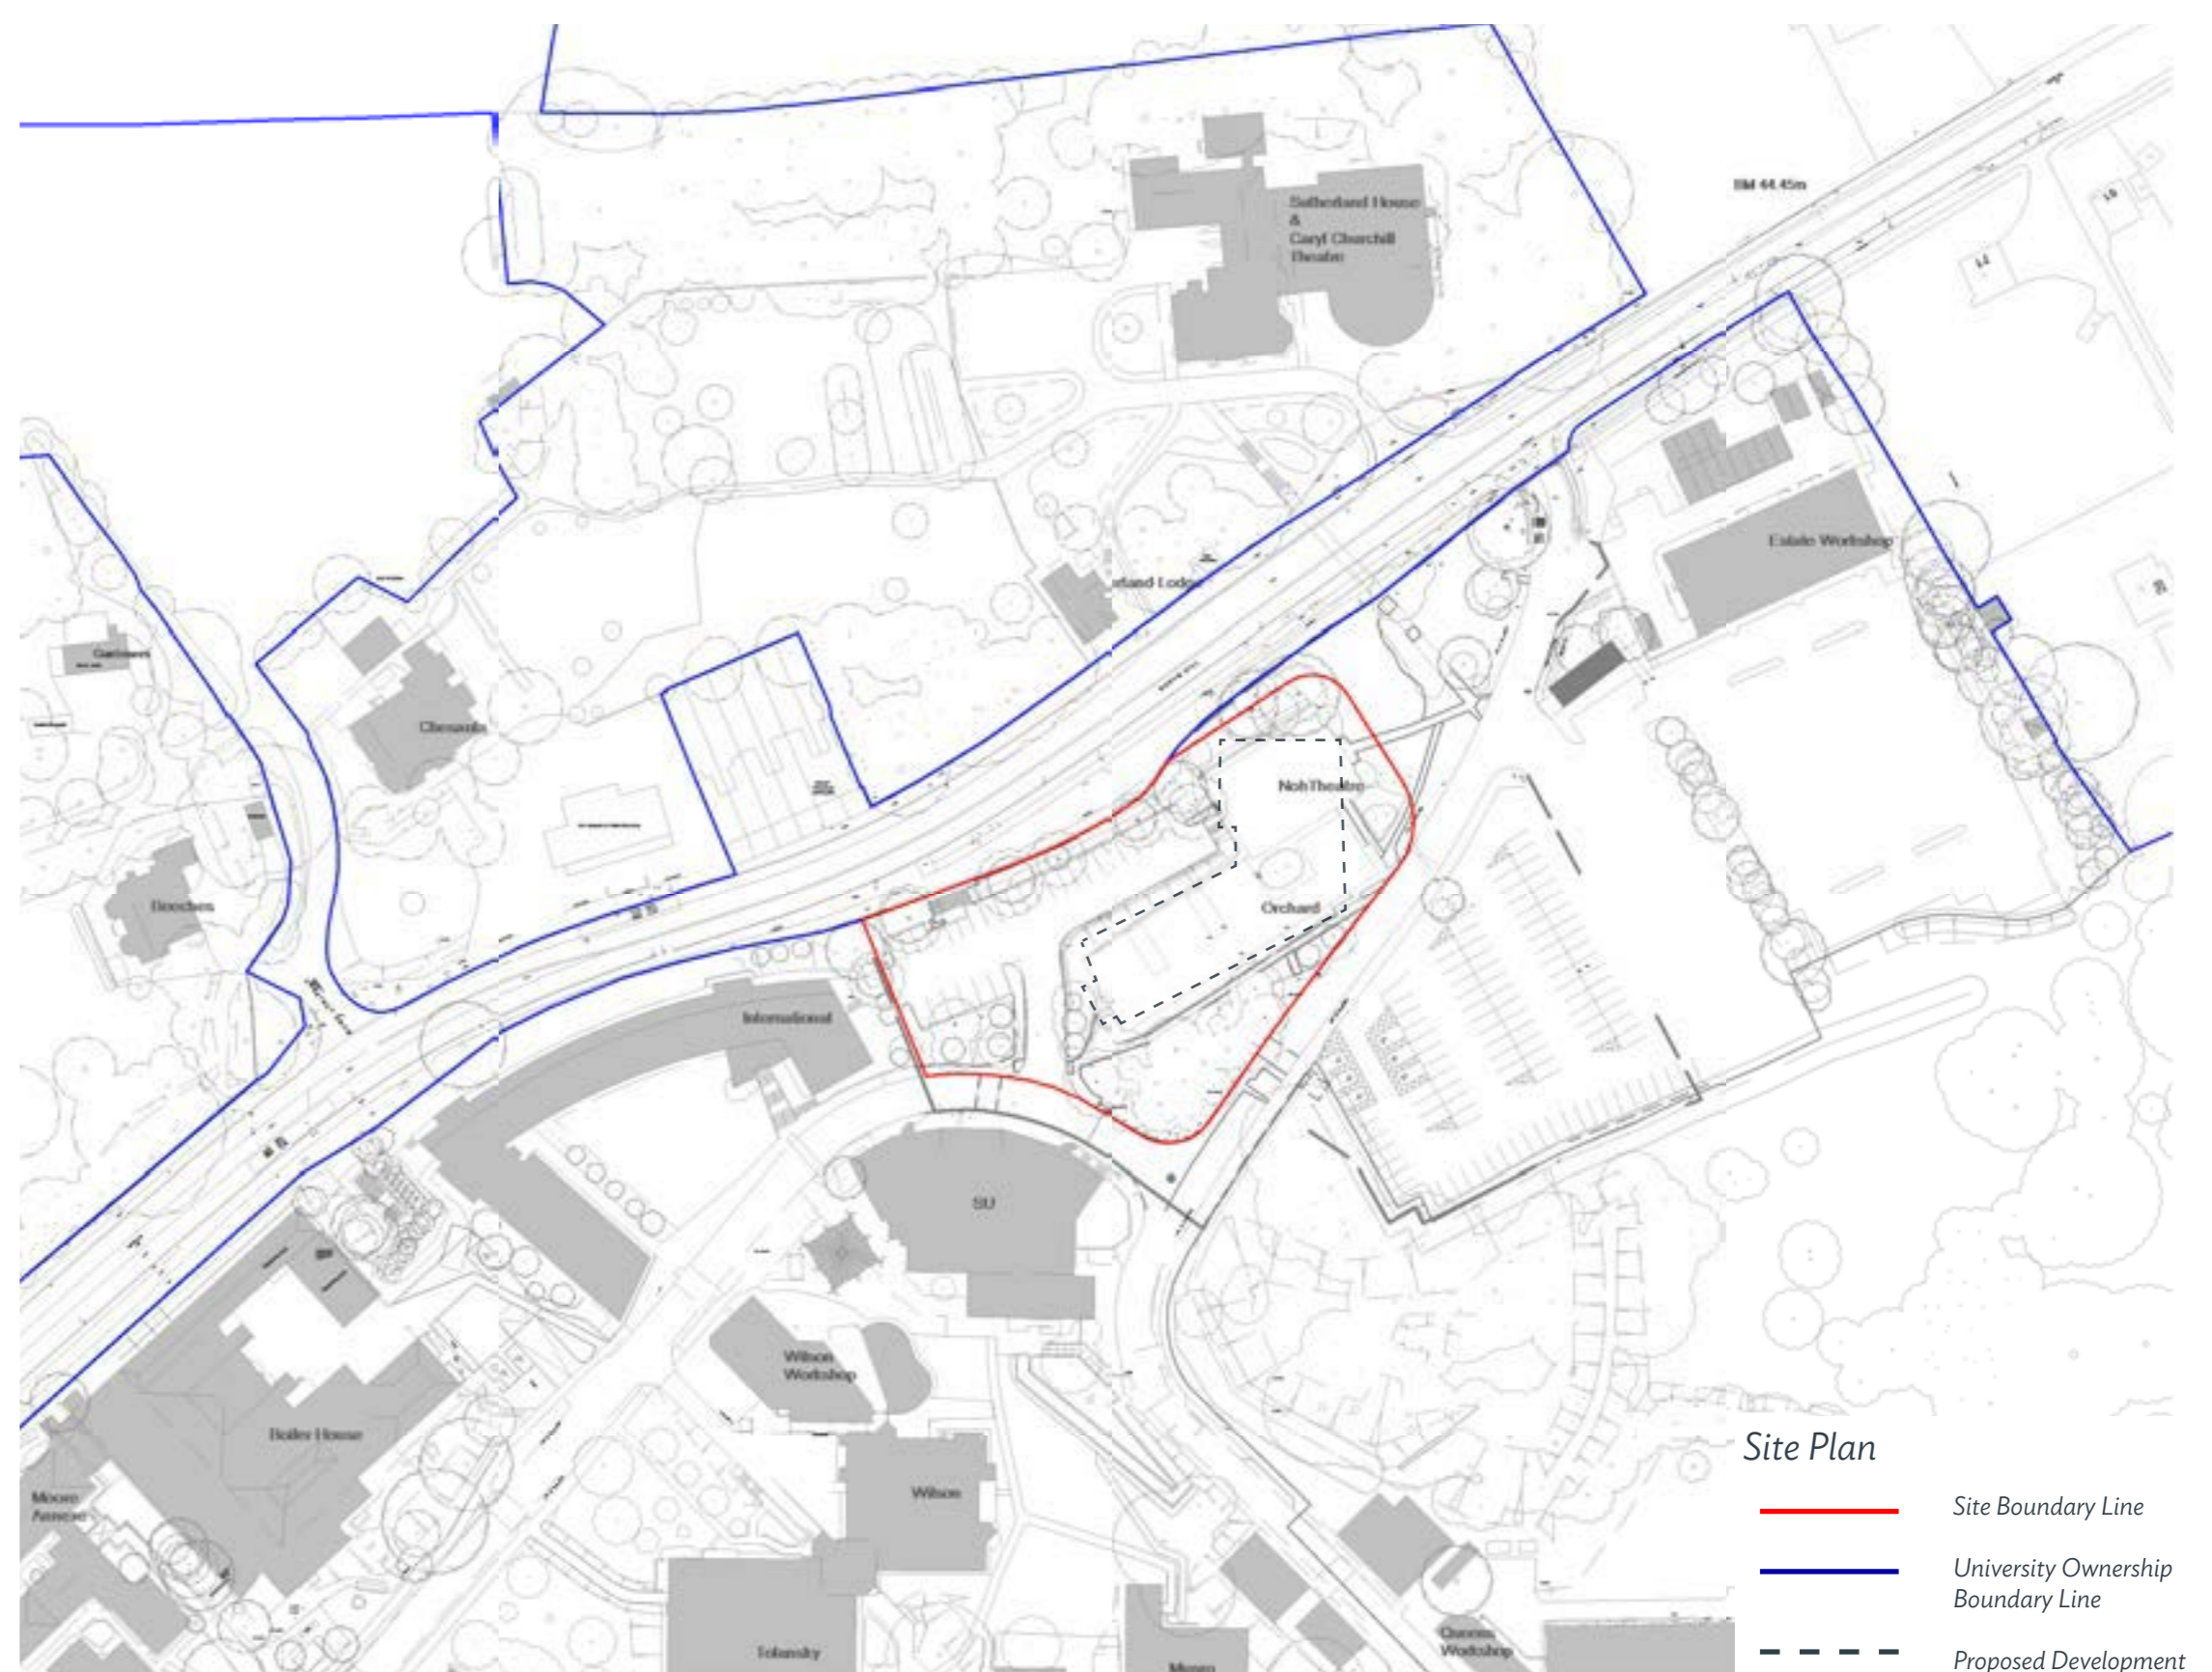

Summary

A reserved matters approval for the layout, scale, appearance and landscaping for the construction of an Enterprise Centre for Royal Holloway, University of London, was submitted to Runnymede Borough Council on the 25th March 2019. The development will provide the University with the opportunity to create a regional centre of excellence in the field of cyber security and big data and will make the EM3 region (focused along the M3 corridor) the natural go-to place for companies who want assistance in developing, testing or validating security products and services.

The principle of a building in this position was established in 2015 on the grant of outline planning permission, supported by the Estate Plan.

The Enterprise Centre is to be positioned on the site of Orchard Building and the Handa Noh Theatre. These buildings are to be demolished to make way for the new building. The existing uses within the Orchard Building will be re-provided within the Enterprise Centre. The Handa Noh Theatre is proposed to be relocated to a site north of the A30 close to Sutherland Lodge.

Runnymede Council – Planning Application Reference RU.19/0563

Artist's Impression of Existing view from A30

Artist's Impression of approach from internal spine road

Existing Buildings (Handa Noh Theatre & Orchard Building)