

Royal Holloway, University of London

Enterprise Centre

Artist's Impression of Building Entrance

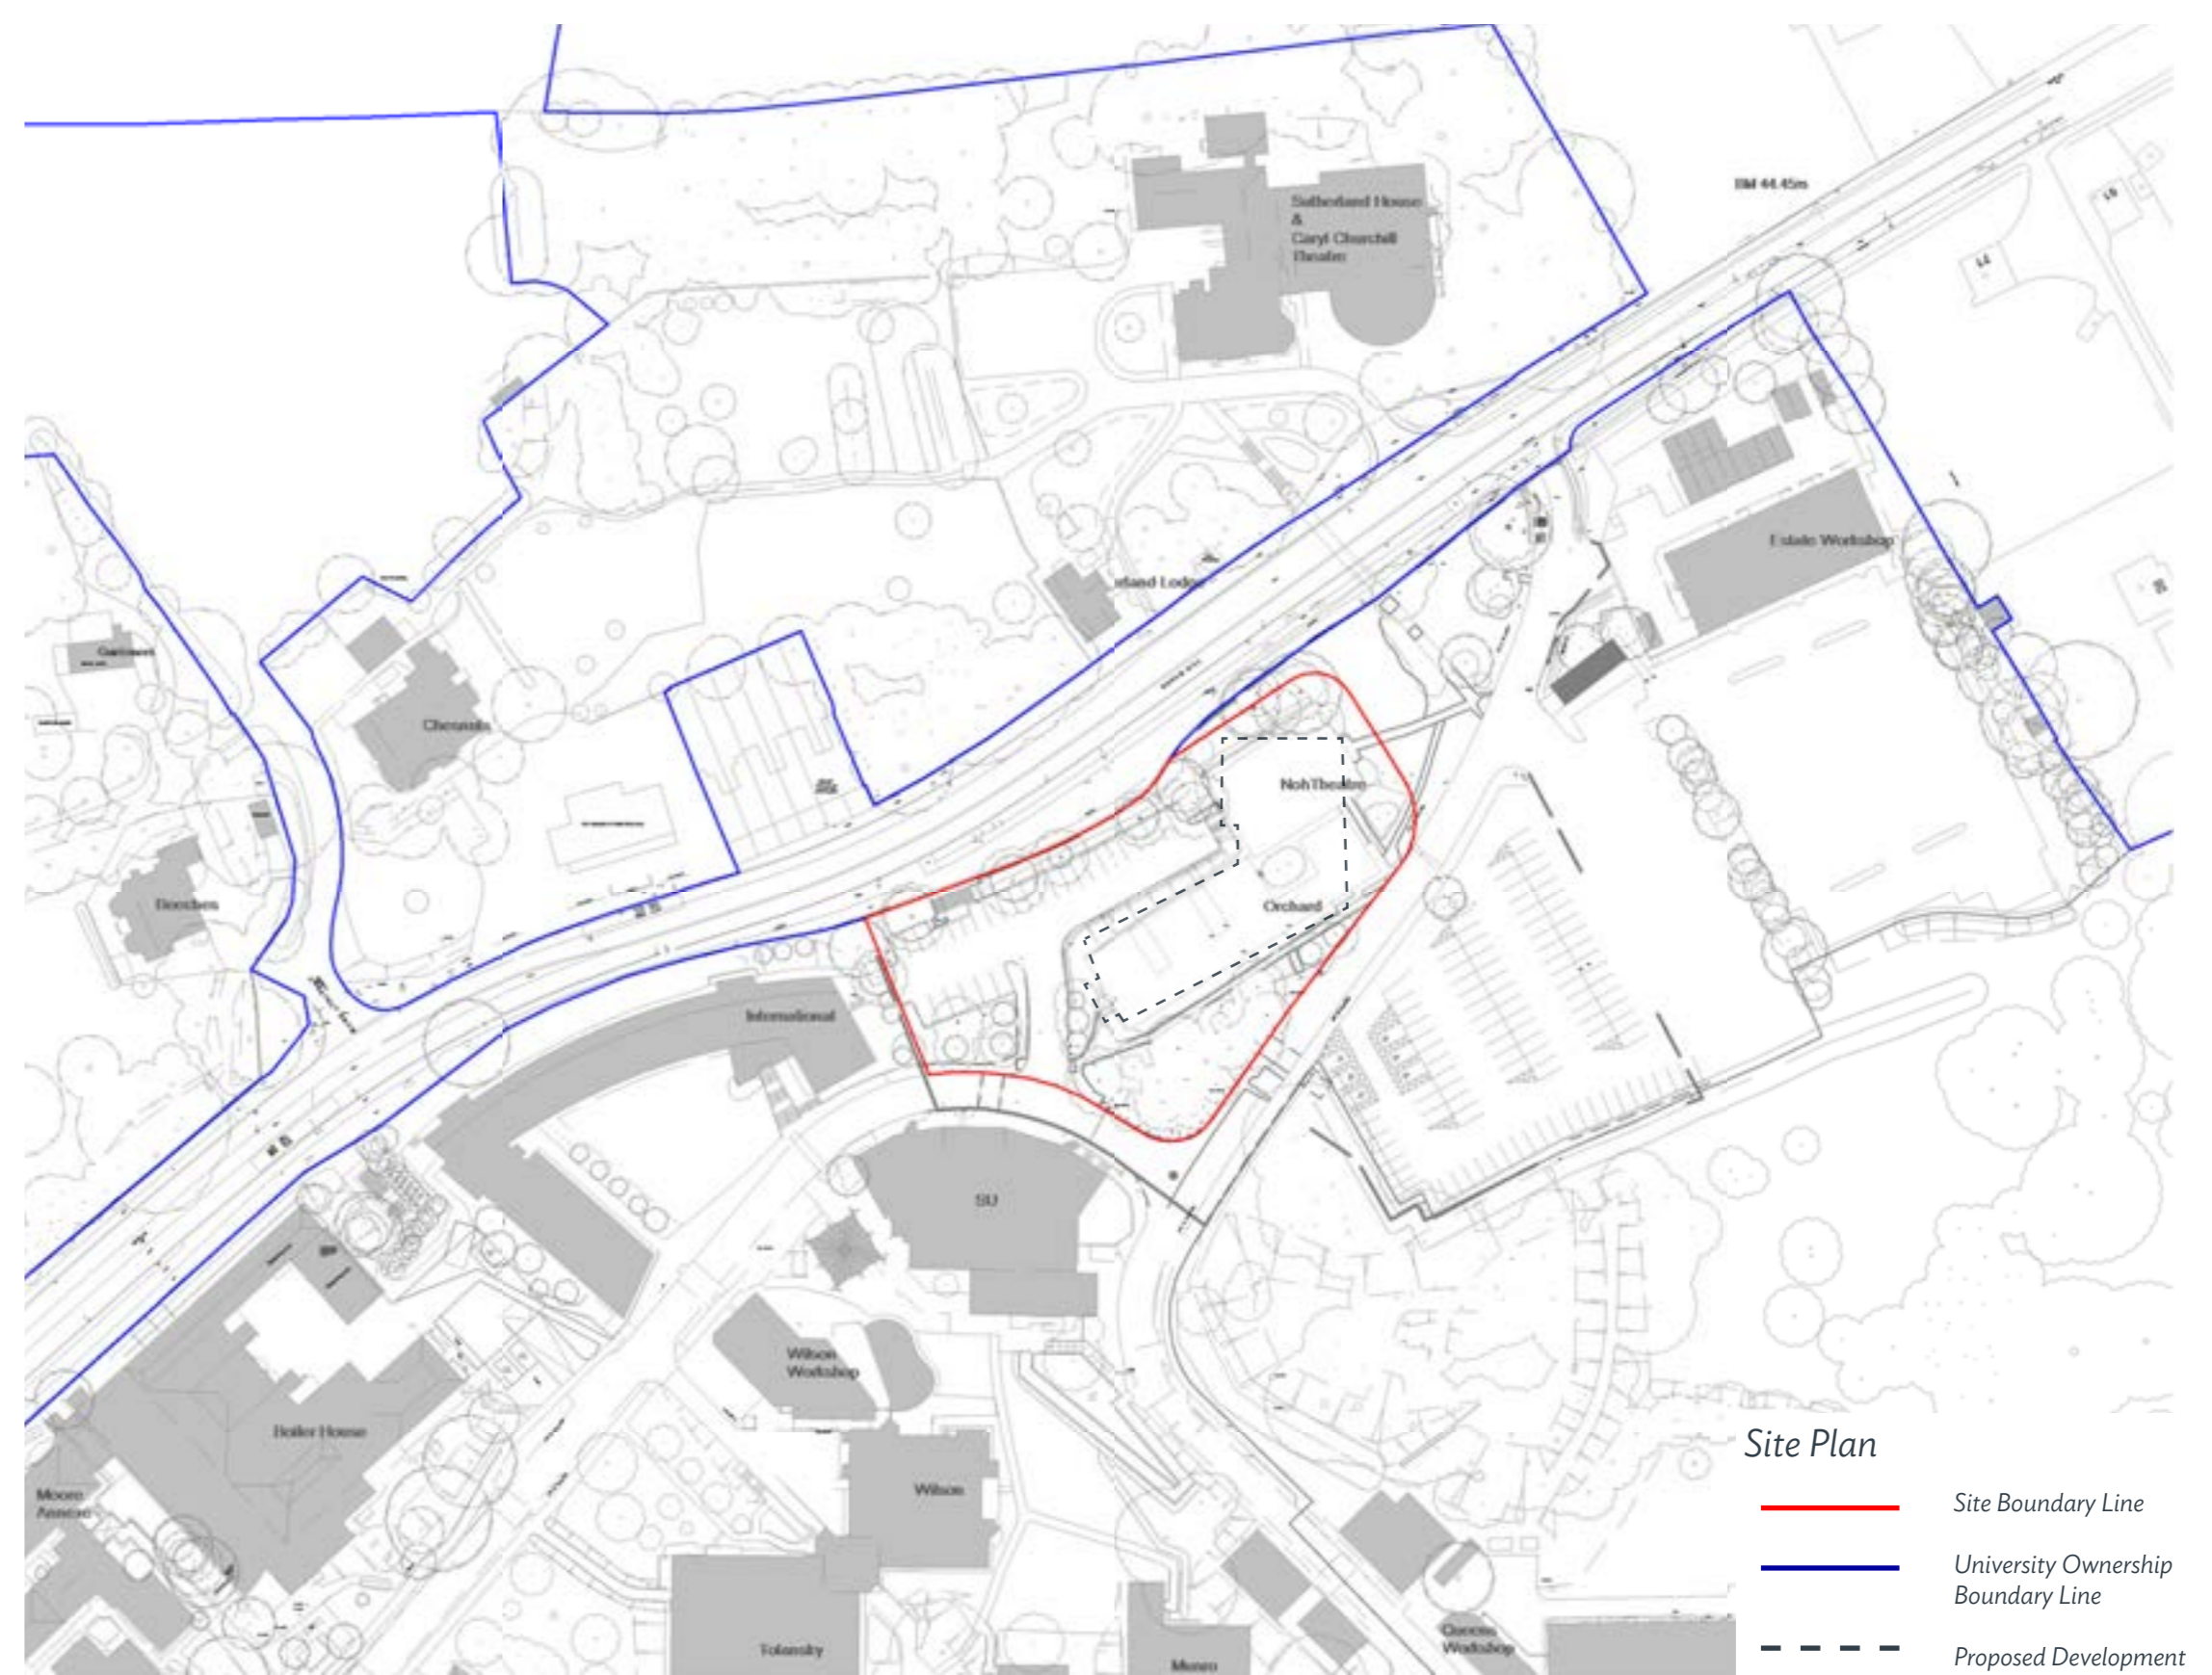

Summary

Planning permission was secured, subject to conditions, on 31st July 2019 for the construction of an Enterprise Centre for Royal Holloway, University of London. The development will provide the University with the opportunity to create a regional centre of excellence in the field of cyber security and big data and will make the EM3 region (focused along the M3 corridor) the natural go-to place for companies who want assistance in developing, testing or validating security products and services.

The team are currently addressing pre-commencement conditions and enabling works (site set-up) are scheduled to begin November/December 2019.

Demolition of the existing Orchard Building and Handa Noh Theatre are scheduled for January/February 2020 and the construction programme is anticipated to last 16 months.

The target date for the building to become operational is 30th August 2021.

Artist's Impression of Existing view from A30

Artist's Impression of approach from internal spine road

Existing Buildings (Handa Noh Theatre & Orchard Building)